

WATER ENVIRONMENT FEDERATION

Nutrient Symposium

2019

Symposium Steering Committee Seeks Room Monitor Volunteers

The Nutrient Removal and Recovery Symposium steering committee is soliciting for volunteers to serve as room monitors at the upcoming 2019 specialty conference in Minneapolis, July 23-25. Volunteering as a Room Monitor will be a great opportunity for students, young professionals, and operators to meet and interact with other professionals in the field.

Room Monitors are asked to help with the following duties:

- ◆ Assist with Continuing Education Credit verification for attendees in your session by scanning attendees badges when they enter and leave the room.
- ◆ Provide feedback to conference WEF staff should any unexpected AV trouble occur.

This wonderful opportunity provides Room Monitors with a number of benefits, including:

- ◆ Free one-day registration to the symposium on the day assigned.
- ◆ Opportunity to network with professionals in this field.

Those interested in volunteering as a Room Monitor are encouraged to sign up for one technical session of their choice (based on availability) to assist the Session Moderator and Assistant Moderator with the onsite execution of that program.

Please note that positions will be assigned based on a first come, first served basis so please send a message indicating your interest as soon as possible to guarantee a spot.

For more information, please contact:

Patrick Haney
HDR
Patrick.Haney@hdrinc.com

For more information on the 2019 symposium, check out: www.wef.org/Nutrients